COMPANY G IS SPLIT UP

Captain Johnson, Two Cooks and Seven Sergeants All That Remains of Original Company.

Camp McClellan, Ala., Oct. 9.—The National Guard company known as the Alexandria Light Infantry for over a quarter of a century (and officially Company G, 1st Virginia Infantry, since the Spanish war,) went out of existence on October 3. It has little prospect of being revived, at least during the present war. "Military necessity" is the only explanation which members of the company have been offered. And when that is given as a reason, argument—at least in strictly military circles—ceases.

Along with the Alexandria company, all those in both the 1st and 2nd Virginia regiments of infantry suffered the same fate. Several companies in each regiment did keep their organization intact, and were transformed bodily into units of the newly formed 116th U. S. infantry, of which practically all Virginia guardsmen who came to Anniston are now members.

The breaking up of the regiment and especially of the separate companies was regretted by all the guardsmen, from commanding officers down, and what effect it will have upon the morale of the men remains to be seen. Probably the large majority of them chose the National Guard as the branch of military service where they could serve with the most enthusiasm and common interest, and selected their home town companies under the impulse of local pride and community spirit. They anticipated that under the European plan of large companies, the militia units would have to be enlarged by the addition of drafted men, as was indicated some time ago. But the actual disintegration of the whole Virginia volunteer organization came as an unexpected blow.

Company funds and gifts to the different organizations provided by their townsfolks, are now practically without owners. In most cases they have been turned over to the organizations into which the majority of the company's men were drafted. Practical assistance planned for the companies in the future will likewise be seriously hampered, such as the sweaters and other knitted wear which local chapters of the Red Cross had almost universally arranged for.

Members of what was the Alexandria Light Infantry are now scattered among six companies in the new regiment: A, C, L, H, and its headquarters company. The majority went to what was Company I, of Staunton, in the 1st Virginia, and the next largest number of Alexandrians to the Lynchburg Musketeers and a few to a company formed around M of Danville.

Second Lieutenant F. Clinton Knight, of Company G, was transferred to Company H of Covington before it was shifted to the new regiment; and a few men not assigned to the other three companies mentioned were grouped in its headquarters company. First Lieutenant Louis N. Duffey went with the majority of the company to I.

Captain Johnson, with his two cooks and seven sergeants from his company, is all that remains of the Alexandria Light Infantry. Even this handful, along with similar groups from other companies not transferred bodily to the 116th, have lost all local identity and are classified as a Casual Attachment of the 54th Depot Brigade, of which the new 116th regiment is a unit. What disposition will be made of these few remaining officers and sergeants has not been disclosed, thought it is understood unofficially that they will be used to train Virginia conscripts to be sent down from Petersburg.

The sergeants remaining with Captain Johnson unassigned are: 1st sergeant Benjamin S. Steiner, supply sergeant William F. Boswell, mess sergeant George H. Jones, Sergeant E. Leon Hume (acting mechanic), sergeant John Lyon (acting company clerk) and line sergeants Benjamin F. Swann and Herman Leafgreen. The promotion of the mechanic and company clerk to sergeants was made at the suggestion of the regimental commander, in or-

MASS MEETING TONIGHT

Prominent Speakers to Deliver Addresses at Opera House—Parade to be Led by Twelfth Artillery Band.

Plans for the sale of the half million dollars worth of second Liberty loan bonds which it is desired to dispose of in Alexandria, were discussed at the meeting of the local committee held yesterday afternoon at the Citizens National bank. Leo P. Harlow presided as chairman and J. Y. Williams was secretary. Arrangements were also made for the mass meeting to be held this evening in the Opera House at 8 o'clock at which addresses will be made by Hon. John Burke, former governor of North Dakota, and subsequently treasurer of the United States, and A. E. Seymour, of the Liberty Loan Speakers' committee, of Washington.

A parade will be given previous to the meeting, the procession to be formed at 7:30 on Washington street, near Duke street. The line of march will be to King, to Payne, and counter-marching to the opera house, led by the Twelfth Field Artillery band from the St. Asaph military camp. It is expected that the members of the Chamber of Commerce, Retail Merchants Association, Home Guards, High school Cadets, High school girls and citizens generally will participate.

An earnest invitation is extended to every resident of the city to attend the meeting and hear the addresses. Admission will be free.

LIBERTY LOAN PARADE.

Great Parade of Citizens to Precede Mass-Meeting at City Auditorium.

Richmond, Oct. 12.—Characteristic of the spirit of the day all plans have been laid for the greatest patriotic celebration in the history of the city next Sunday, October 14, a celebration that will consist of a monster parade of all the organizations in the city, the State and city officials, the Chamber of Commerce, bankers, ministers, directors of all the industrial and financial institutions of the city, school children, Boy Scouts and others, led by seevral bands, and a great mass-meeting at the City Auditorium immediately after the parade at which time United States Senator Claude A. Swanson, of Virginia, ranking member of the Senate Naval Affairs committee, and at present its acting chairman, will address the people on the Liberty loan campaign. Concerted efforts will be made to interest the people in the seriousness of the situation of the country and at the same time impress upon them the fact that the country must have financial aid, without which the war cannot be brought to a successful termination.

The Liberty Loan parade, to be held Sunday preceding the mass-meeting, will start at 3 o'clock from the Capitol Square.

This morning at 11 o'clock Governor Stuart called in the hall of the House of Delegates all the State officials, who were addressed by Congressman Andrew Jackson Montague, who has been traveling over the country in the interest of the Liberty bond campaign.

At 12 o'clock in the Council chamber in the City Hall Mayor Ainslie called together all the heads of the city departments and their employees. John M. Miller, Jr., addressed the city officials.

The bankers and officials of the other financial institutions held a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce today at noon for the purpose of considering plans to further increase the activity of the campaign. Speaking at the theaters and churches of the city continues.

TRAPS RAT WITH FLYPAPER.

Best Devices Failed Till Housewife Adopted Novel Scheme.

Marysville, Pa., Oct. 12.—Unable to catch with a common trap a large rat that had been making inroads on her larder, Mrs. W. W. Acker, Greenwood township, finally caught him by an ingenious scheme. At her wits' end, Mrs. Acker finally decided to place traps at each end of a small box, some food between them, and cover this with flypaper.

This morning the rodent was caught. It had started to search for the food, had caught fast on the flypaper, and in efforts to loosen itself had caught one foot in each trap and thus was held securely.

Alexandria City and Suburbs

There will be a meeting of Company C at the armory tonight at 7 o'clock in order to take part in the Liberty bond parade.

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hulfish have returned to their home in south Washington street after a ten day auto tour through Virginia.

Charles R. Craddock has sold to William A. Moore, Jr., house and lot in the western half of block 16, section 2, in Rosemont.

REVOLT IN GERMAN NAVY.

Militarists Driven to Desperate Measures by Present Conditions.

London, Oct. 12.—Having faced what was established as a widespread revolt in the navy and with mutterings of discontent in the army, the German military machine was expected by observers here to seek eradication of all opposing elements by new iron hand methods. Belief was expressed in certain quarters that German militarists would seize the opportunity afforded by their preliminary suppression of revolt to sweep away all radicals. The independent socialists, of the type of Liebknecht, Ledebour and Haase, have always been thorns in the side of the pan-Germans. Liebknecht was removed by imposition of a long term of imprisonment because he circulated petitions of stoppage of the war. That was several months ago. His work of internationalism was taken up by Ledebour, Haase and a small minority group of socialists. They have constantly harassed the government.

Now the government retaliates by seeking to connect them with the naval revolt. The fact that the German censors passed the news of the naval rebellion was taken here as evidence that the militarists had managed again to gain complete ascendancy and that they were seeking an excuse for even more rigorous measures against popular rule. The first outbreak of the uprising in the navy occurred about September 1, according to Holland dispatches. It was at Wilhelmshaven. The movement was widespread and organized and was suppressed only with the greatest difficulty. At least four battleships crews were affected. A fifth joined later. The German censor passed one dispatch asserting that the direct cause of the revolt was inadequate and poor food.

Other dispatches received here indicated that disaffection had been noted in various army units, but apparently there have been no direct outbreaks. Just how many navel mutineers had been executed and imprisoned was not revealed in any German dispatches. Only three were apparently executed on the kaiser's personal orders at Wilhelmshaven. How many were shot down in the fighting which marked the capture of one of the vessels from the mutineers was not made known.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY.

Philadelphia Executive Charged With Conspiracy to Murder.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Mayor Thomas B. Smith was bound over to the grand jury on charges of misbehavior in office and conspiracy to murder yesterday, at the conclusion of the eight-day hearing which followed the disorder and murder in the Fifth ward at the primary election last month. The mayor's eight codefendants—Councilmen William Finley and Isaac Deutsch, Police Lieutenant David Bennett and five policemen—were bound over on the conspiracy charge. The mayor's bail was fixed at $10,000 and that of the others at $5,000 each.

SUBMARINES SUNK.

Thirteen Belonging to Austria Meet Disaster in Adriatic.

New York, Oct. 12.—Il Progresso, an Italian newspaper published in New York, received a cablegram from its special correspondent at Rome last night stating that thirteen Austrian submarines have been sunk in the Adriatic during the last few weeks. The dispatch gives no details.

Mrs. Frank Cox and Dora Jones, accompanied by Miss Odessa McAllister, have returned from Hagerstown, Md., where they were in attendance at the fair and also visited Mrs. J. T. Richards, at Williamsport, Md.

The body of Dr. Avery Kittenour, whose death occurred in Norfolk, Va., on Wednesday, is expected to arrive in this city tomorrow morning and the funeral will be held at 11 o'clock from Demaine and Son's mortuary chapel. Rev. P. P. Phillips will officiate and the interment will be in the Presbyterian cemetery.

SUNDAY'S BIG PARADE

From Three to Five Thousand Sunday School Teachers and Scholars Expected to be in Line in This City.

The fourth annual parade of the Sunday Schools of the Alexandria Sunday School Association will take place next Sunday afternoon at three o'clock sharp. Including the escort of police, twenty-two organizations will be in line.

The 12th Field Artillery Band of Camp St. Asaph which has made so many friends in the city, has accepted an invitation and will parade with the schools, also the Coast Artillery Band at Fort Washington.

The popular Indian Guard band of this city, will this year turn out with the Immanuel Bible Class of Christ Church.

In the preceding years the parade has been successfully carried out in every detail, and each year has witnessed an improvement over the former one. Those who have the affair in charge expect this year will prove no exception, and that this religious, patriotic demonstration is intended to impress everyone with the fact that the Sunday Schools of our city stand "For God and Our Country," which is the slogan of the schools and will be seen upon the banners in the parade on Sunday.

Every member of every school is expected to be in line on Sunday as an expression of fealty to God and our country.

Immediately following the parade the schools will be marched by divisions to one of the three following churches: St. Paul's, First Baptist and Trinity Methodist where they will be addressed by one of the following prominent speakers from Washington who have promised to be present: Rev. Howard J. Stewart, D. D., pastor of the Second Baptist, church; Rev. E. K. Hardin, D. D., pastor of the Mount Vernon Place M. E. church south, and Mr. H. S. Omohundro, director of the Young Men's Christian Association.

The scholars of each school will wear the color they have carried in previous years, and each school will carry one banner designating the name of the school. In addition each school will carry another banner which will be the motto of the parade, "For God and Our Country."

As an expression of their love of their country, classes or schools will carry the flag of the United States.

The fact that several schools are in friendly rivalry as to which shall have the larger number in line is adding much zest to the preparations.

WOMEN TRACK HANDS QUIT.

Declare Pennsy's Railroad Work is Too Full of Stoops.

Altoona, Pa. Oct. 12.—The Pennsylvania Railroad recently employed a number of women in the yards as track hands. Yesterday they threw up the sponge. They say the work is too hard, that it requires constant stooping, which is hard on the back. They worked nine hours and swept and cleaned the tracks and road bed.

Peggy Hyland at the Richmond Tonight.

"Caste," the evergreen comedy, featuring Peggy Hyland and Sir John Hare, that has won and kept the hearts of two continents for fifty years, will be seen tonight in picture at the Richmond.

"Caste" was King Edward's favorite picture, also the favorite of thousands of his subjects, portraying snobbery and class distinction as it is found in England today.

No cases were before the Police Court this morning.

Among those who took part in the program of exercises at the Lyceum Hall last evening for the entertainment of the soldiers was Sergeant Nelson, of Battery D, who sang a solo. Vocal solos were also rendered by Miss Henderson and Miss Reishell, and Miss Harrington and Mr. Carl Padgett contributed some excellent piano and violin music. Hawaiian airs by Mr. Henry Gillum, of Washington, formed other pleasing numbers of the program, after which dancing was enjoyed.

ALEXANDRIANS IN CAMP.

Bonds and Pine Floor Topics of Interest at Anniston.

Anniston, Ala. Oct. 12.—Liberty bonds and pine floors were the topics of interest to the Virginia men at Camp McClellan yesterday. The Virginia infantry units have been given a supply of lumber for flooring and the men are going ahead with the work. The campaign for the sale of Liberty bonds is well under way, and the Virginians are showing their patriotism by pledging themselves to liberal purchases.

Instructions in defense against gas attacks and the use of gas as a weapon of modern warfare will soon play a prominent part in the course of instruction for officers and enlisted men at Camp McClellan, according to reports given out at headquarters yesterday.

The construction quartermaster has received instructions to construct a gas house for the school in gas defense courses, to be conducted by Lieutenant Tillman, of the medical department reserve corps. Every officer and enlisted man will be taught how to protect himself from the poisonous gases used by the enemy. They will also be taught how to use the gas themselves, and how to wear and work with gas masks, the appearance of gas clouds and the construction of gas shells of various designs.

The time assigned for the study of gas warfare has been specified by the War Department, but the application of the time for this and other studies in modern warfare will be left to the brigade commanders, whose orders covering the periods of instructions will be issued on October 15, and weekly hereafter.

From a perusal of the new schedule of training for the men it is evident that a great deal of attention will be paid to such tactics as have been made necessary for trench warfare. While a considerable part of the time will be devoted to parades and ceremonials the higher officials evidently are determined that the soldiers will be well grounded in the practical schooling, rather than in showy parades and "pretty formations."

DECIDED DEADLOCK.

Germans Say They Will Not Give up Alsace-Lorraine—British Inexorable.

London, Oct. 12.—Premier Lloyd George made reply yesterday to the defiant statement of the German Foreign Minister regarding Alsace-Lorraine. Dr. Von Kuehlmann had said that there was but one answer to the question whether Germany would cede the provinces to France, and the answer was "no."

"I do not think," said the British minister today, "that any statement is more calculated to prolong the war than German Foreign Minister Von Kuehlmann's declaration that Germany will not grant the concession of Alsace-Lorraine to France.

"However long the war may last, England intends to stand by France until she has redeemed her oppressed children from their foreign yoke."

This is the first unqualified statement on Britain's position regarding the Alsace-Lorraine question to be made by a responsible British official in the war.

School Boys Strike.

New York, Oct. 12.—Two hundred high school boys walked out here yesterday. They have declared a strike for a shorter "work day." An indignation meeting was held at Columbus Circle, where boy orators addressed the strikers. An appeal was made to other schools for support in a general walkout. The girls also were asked to join.

MR. CARLIN AT CAMP LEE

He Urges Soldiers to Buy Liberty Bonds—317th Regiment Passed $151,000 Mark.

Camp Lee, Va., Oct. 12.—Yesterday was Liberty bond day at Camp Lee. Pursuant to orders from Washington patriotic ceremonies were held in every part of the camp, all of them revolving around the one idea, "Buy a Liberty bond." Nearly 30,000 men of the National Army located here participated in the exercises, and had the purpose of the observances brought forcibly to them by prominent civilian speakers. Following the ceremonies each company was addressed by its commanding officer in the barracks, after which the rest of the day was devoted to athletics.

Simultaneously at 2 o'clock in the afternoon every command in the cantonment gathered in its regimental territory for the celebration of "Liberty bond day." Representative C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria, was the speaker of the day for the 318th regiment, of Virginia; C. T. Lassiter, an attorney, of Petersburg, for the 317th regiment, of Virginia; the 319th infantry, of Pennsylvania, held a regimental parade, and each of the commands had exercises of some kind.

Representative Carlin came down to the camp from Richmond with Collector Richard C. L. Moncure, of Richmond; Norman Hamilton, collector of customs for the port of Norfolk, and, with Colonel James M. Love, jr., of the 318th regiment, reviewed several of the companies of that regiment. Following this the entire regiment was assembled and addressed by Mr. Carlin. Before and after the speaking the men sang "America" and "Kaiser Bill."

Addressing the troops, Mr. Carlin stated to them the causes which led to America's entrance into the war, denouncing Germany's attitude toward this country regarding its promises in relation to the submarine warfare, as the "greatest piece of deceit ever practiced by any nation on another."

Why the United States adopted the selective draft plan of raising the army of this country, rather than the volunteer method, which had proven unscientific, Mr. Carlin explained, pointing to the great success of getting together the National Army under the former plan, telling that by it the rich and poor, and all shades of people were drawn together for one purpose in a common cause. The idea of the conflict being "a poor man's fight, and a rich man's war" had been entirely dissipated by the operation of the selective draft act, the speaker declared.

Referring to the purchase of Liberty bonds, Mr. Carlin told the men that not only were they called upon to fight in the war, but they were also asked to finance it. This, he explained, had been made easy for the men by enabling them to purchase the bonds by monthly payments, and pointed out the necessity for every man to subscribe because of the need of billions of dollars for the prosecution of the war over the entire wealth of the country.

Colonel Love introduced Representative Carlin.

Presented With Masonic Jewel.

Last night the Grand Lodge of Masons in Virginia presented to Colonel James Alston Cabell, of Richmond, a handsome past grand master's jewel. The committee having charge of the matter was composed of Past Grand Masters Eubank, of Newport News; Eggleston, of Richmond, and Cunningham, of Newport News. Several of the grand lodge officers attended. The ceremonies took place at the stated communication of Metropolitan Lodge and was an occasion of great interest to the craft. Colonel Cabell made a splendid record as grand master, and the gift is in recognition of it.

ACCEPTS RESIGNATION

Calvin T. Ryan Relinquishes His Position as Teacher of English in the High School.

There was a called meeting of the City School Board last night. The board was in session an hour and a half. It had been called to take action in reference to conditions which now face the public school system of Alexandria, brought about by the resignation of three teachers and the urgent appeals of others for increased salaries at a time when the high cost of living is perplexing those dependent upon salaries.

Chairman Bradshaw presided, and Messrs. Cox, Hellmuth, Pierce, Colvin, Howard, Lunt and Thompson and Superintendent Sweeney were present.

The resignation of Calvin T. Ryan, a teacher of English in the High School was read. After considerable interchange of opinion concerning the propriety of teachers resigning after having signed contracts with the School Board, his resignation was accepted.

During the consideration of the resignation it was stated that other teachers in the system had been offered positions at increased pay, but having entered into a contract with the board, such would fulfill their part.

It was generally agreed that the teachers should receive more than their present allowances, but, under the circumstances, the board is powerless, as in order to pay more satisfactory salaries Council would be called upon to make further appropriations.

It was finally determined to appoint a committee to confer with the city fathers and see what can be done in the matter. Messrs. Pierce, Cox and Hellmuth were appointed on this committee.

At a previous meeting it had been agreed that the City Superintendent and committee on teachers fill vacancies temporarily, and this request was perpetuated.

The following resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote:

Whereas three of the teachers have left the system during the past thirty days, seemingly without giving proper consideration to contracts they had signed, therefore be it

Resolved, That the teachers be notified that from this date no resignations will be accepted for exceptional cause. And be it further

Resolved, that the board will expect all teachers to fulfill the terms of their contract with the board.

The board subsequently adjourned.

SEVENTEEN INDICTED.

Nine Bombs Placed on the Lusitania Before She Sailed on Her Last Voyage.

New York, Oct. 12.—Capt. Franz von Papen, former attache of the German Embassy in Washington, who is now in Europe, and seventeen other men were indicted yesterday by a Federal grand jury. They are charged with placing bombs in the Lusitania and many other ships in 1915.

Assistant United States Attorney James W. Osborne, 2nd, made a hasty presentation of the evidence to the grand jury yesterday, following the arrest Wednesday night of three of the alleged conspirators.

Nine T. N. T. bombs, or "cigars," as they were called, had been placed in the Lusitania's hold just before she sailed on her last voyage in March, 1915.

This information was carried to the United States Attorney today, by Martin Ilsen, a German lawyer, who edits a department of a German newspaper in New York.

Ilsen stated he was in the office of Dr. Karl Schimmel, at 51 Chambers street, when the news was flashed of the sinking of the Lusitania by a U-boat. Dr. Schimmel, he declared, rushed about the room tearing his hair and weeping.

He quoted Dr. Schimmel as saying: "The fool. He has ruined my work. I had nine "cigars" planted on the Lusitania. They would have destroyed her before she reached Liverpool."

An Austrian torpedo boat has surrendered to the Italians without firing a shot, according to dispatches from Rome. The Austrian warship was set upon by superior forces.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

As will be seen elsewhere, conditions confronting the city school board are becoming more perplexing. Another teacher, regarded as valuable in the system, sent in his resignation last night when a called meeting of the board was held. He has accepted a position in one of the schools in Washington at a salary of one hundred dollars per annum more than he has received here. Two other valuable teachers had previously severed their connection with the system. The trio, according to law, had signed contracts with the board, whereby they were to serve during the school year at stipulated salaries. The resignation sent in last night caused considerable discussion as to the propriety of one party to a contract breaking the same. It is true, the Kaiser has regarded treaties as scraps of paper, but it was not expected his example would be followed by public school teachers in Alexandria.

Arrangements were made whereby temporary appointees will fill abandoned positions, and the board will resort to every means possible to keep the schools going.

While the school authorities anticipate no general exodus of teachers, it is to be regretted that some of the most valued preceptors should have left at this inopportune time, the last leaving in the middle of a month. Yet the members of the board realize that we live in a time when, notwithstanding the increase in salaries, it is necessary for the great majority to spend all they receive in order to eke out an existence.

The times are abnormal, the high tide of prosperity is spreading in every direction and labor is scarce. The many opportunities for intelligent men and women to obtain positions in one or the other departments of the government are, to many, more alluring than the positions of school teachers, or attendants in stores, or employment in millineries or mantua making establishments; hence those having to work for their living cannot be blamed for entering avenues heretofore closed to them. There is but one way out of the difficulty: The City Council must come to the rescue and make the needed appropriations if the school system is to be kept up to its required proficiency.

BIRDS OF PREY.

Notwithstanding the many drastic laws adopted by Legislatures of States as well as the Congress of the United States to curb licentiousness, the number of cases where young women become victims of brutes or have narrow escapes shows but little diminution. These descendants of "Sir Mulberry Hawk" (a detestable character in "Nicholas Nickleby") are in every community, and the greater number of such degenerates escape paying the penalty of their crimes.

Four young men are scheduled to be given a hearing in juvenile and domestic relations court in Richmond next week on the charge of contributing to the moral delinquincy of three girls of the East End section of the capital city while taking them on an automobile ride in Hanover county one Sunday afternoon recently. These charges are an echo of a more serious case pending against two of the young men in Hanover, growing out of the same automobile trip.

According to the story as related to the police, Macon Booker and Frank Southall asked three girls, all under twenty, to go motoring with them. The girls consented, but they had gone only a few blocks when they were turned over to Lonnie Atkins and Henry Briel, driving another machine. Booker and Southall picked up two other girls, and then the party set out for Hanover.

Soon after 9 o'clock that night the Rev. W. S. Dyerle, a Methodist pastor with a circuit in that county, was driving home from church when he noticed two automobiles standing beside the road. As he passed girlish voices called out to him for help. They said that they were being threatened with pistols and feared for their lives. The minister responded to the distress calls and took three of the girls into his machine and brought them back to Richmond. The other two insisted that they were entirely satisfied with the situation and had no complaint to make. So they were left behind, together with the young men.

Last Monday Atkins and Briel were given a hearing and held for the grand jury. They are now to be out on $1,000 bond each.

The girls said that not until they were well out into the country did they realize that the trip was evidently designed for improper purposes.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Three Italians convicted of an attempt to destroy a munitions depot in Genoa harbor have been executed and two others who knew of the plot and failed to reveal it to the authorities have been sentenced to life imprisonment, according to dispatches from Rome.

An ultimatum threatening a walkout by practically all the men employed on New York harbor craft on November 1, unless their demand for a greatly increased wage is met, was sent yesterday by the Marine Wormkers' Affiliation of the port of New York to the employers. Such a walkout would mean a complete tie up of the business of the harbor, which includes the bulk of the movement of American forces to France and the shipment of food and supplies for the soldiers. The employers after studying the demands of the men, stated unequivocally that they would not meet the wage increase.

The German emperor has arrived at Sofia, according to a dispatch from that city.

Asked about the report from New York that railroads operating east of Chicago and north of the Potomac River have been notified by representatives of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Order of Railway Conductors that demands will be presented for increased wages for men in the passenger service on December 1, Mr. W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, said: "Nothing of the kind has been done."

An unidentified man was found blackjacked by the police of the Third and Delaney streets station, Philadelphia, early yesterday near the spot where Policeman Eppley was shot dead by imported gunmen during the recent primary election in the "Bloody" Fifth ward. The man died later in Pennsylvania Hospital without regaining consciousness. He was about 21 years old.

A special dispatch to the Novoe Vremya, of Petrograd, from Kiev, says that at Brailoff, in the government of Podolsk, 200 persons have been burned to death in a vodka factory there. Soldiers looting the factory set fire to 1,000 gallons of spirits in the cellar where they were trapped by the flames.

The Uruguayan charge d'affaires in Berlin has notified the German foreign office that relations between Uruguay and Germany have been severed, according to a dispatch from Berlin received in Amsterdam. The dispatch adds that the charge also requested his passports.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

Albert Fltcher, president of the People's National Bank, in Warrenton, died suddenly from heart failure at his home Wednesday night, aged 76 years. He had been prominently identified with the business life of Warrenton during his entire life, being the senior member of Fletcher Brothers. Aside from his business career he had long been regarded as the leader of the Democratic party in Fauquier county, being its chairman for more than twenty years. He was a member of the Constitutional Convention of Virginia in 1901 and 1902, representing Loudoun and Fauquier counties. He is survived by two sons, Dr. Howard Fletcher, of Fairfax, and Albert Fletcher, Jr., of Warrenton and one brother, Thaddeus N. Fletcher, and one sister, Mrs. Alice Kincheloe, both of Warrenton.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy, Virginia division, in annual State convention in Roanoke, held an historical evening last night. At the close of the program Miss E. E. Goode entered a strong protest against the use of books that do not fairly represent the South in public schools. Officers will be elected today. Prizes offered by the Virginia division were awarded as follows: First prize, Miss Annie Mann, Petersburg; second prize, Miss Carrie Humphrey, Appomattox Chapter, Lynchburg; third prize, Kirkwood Otey Chapter, Lynchburg, represented by Mrs. S. C. Fisher.

HUNT HEIRESS.

Grace Potter, Chicago Society Girl, Missing From Asheville Sanitarium

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 12.—County and local authorities today instituted a wide search for Miss Grace Potter, prominent young society girl, niece of the Potter Palmers, of Chicago, who disappeared from Asheville Sanitarium October 1.

Miss Potter had been under treatment for a nervous affection. She is believed to have strayed into the mountains, as on several previous occasions, which were followed, however, by her return within 48 hours.

Private searching parties who have scoured the country since she disappeared reported failure to find a single trace of the lost heiress. Efforts to confine the search to private agencies were then discarded, a police appeal made, and searchers at once dispatched into the hills.

The German reichstag, according to a dispatch from Berlin received in Amsterdam, adjourned yesterday until December 5.

WON'T GIVE COCCHI UP.

Italy Definitely Refuses Extradition of Ruth Cruger's Slayer.

Rome, Oct. 12.—After long consideration, the Italian Government has decided not to grant the extradition of Alfredo Cocchi, who killed Ruth Cruger in New York. The Government has come to the conclusion that it is impossible to permit Cocchi's extradition and regret is expressed that it is unable to meet the wishes of the American authorities.

Emmanuel Fino, a lawyer, who has been acting as representative of the New York District Attorney, is now endeavoring to arrange the sending of Cocchi to the United States under arrest to give testimony in regard to his reported associations with members of the New York police department.

Danville, Va., Oct. 12.—In certifying ten men for military service yesterday afternoon, the local exemption board completed Danville's quota of ninety-five. Ten more men are still to be selected to constitute the usual 10 per cent surplus.

DESTROYING WAR GARDENS.

Vigorous Protest Against Action of Board of Education.

Residents of West Philadelphia in the vicinity of Sixty-eighth and Greenway avenue, who have been giving their time this summer cultivating "war gardens" on vacant land in the vicinity, are up in arms over the action of the Board of Education in ordering the ground plowed up and foodstuffs still growing destroyed. The work of demolishing the gardens and destroying the plants began yesterday, and will be completed today.

School children and their parents have been busy all summer cultivating some 50 small plots laid out by the Board of Education early in the summer. A large quantity of garden products have been gathered, but there are others not quite ready for use. It is the destruction of these vegetables that has aroused the indignation of the people interested in the "war gardens." A protest to the board against this action is being planned.

William F. Obenhuber, No. 2116 South Sixty-sixth street, is most vigorous in his protests. "It is a shame to destroy these growing plants which the children have spent so much time cultivating," he said. "Why, in another month we will see a good crop if these people will only let the ground alone. I don't know what the reason is for ruining this much-needed part of the war economy program, but I think the Board of Education is making a mistake.

Storm warnings last night were displayed along the entire North Atlantic coast from Nantucket to Eastport by orders of the Weather Bureau. Warnings also were displayed on all the Great Lakes except Ontario.

The Meaning of Our Special Line of Blouses

At $3.98

In fact, it is not a line in the strict sense of the word, because we have not all sizes in all styles, but in this assortment we have gathered our special purchases, blouses from higher-priced lines, where a few of a kind only are left, and which, for one reason or another, we do not intend to, or are unable to, reorder. Of still other styles we have very nearly all sizes, because we secured the materials at special concessions and had the blouses made up to our order.

Two members who were left behind for treatment in the Walter Reid Hospital, Washington, have also been returned to their commands. They are Archie C. Scott, and John Woolls.

WAKELIN CONVICTED.

Jury Frees His Wife in Death of Little Daughter.

Cambridge, Oct. 12.—Joseph Wakelin, of Melrose, was last night found guilty of manslaughter on account of the death of his daughter, Loretta, 7 years of age. His wife, Sarah, who had been on trial with him on the same charge was acquitted. The jury deliberated nearly eight hours.

Mrs. Wakelin wept as she heard the verdict, but her husband received it calmly. Sentence will be pronounced Tuesday morning. The maximum penalty for manslaughter in this State is 20 years' imprisonment.

Wakelin and his wife were originally indicted for murder, but when they were placed on trial District Attorney Tufts had the charge changed to manslaughter. The State contended that when Loretta was sent home from school on June 1, 1916, for a book she had forgotten, she objected to returning to school, and that Wakelin seized her more forcibly than he intended and choked her to death. Then, in order to divert suspicion, according to the State's allegation, he mutilated the body and concealed it in the woods nearby.

Cause of Naval Mutiny.

Amsterdam, Oct. 12.—According to some reports here the discontent in the German navy began eight months ago, and the men of the fleet had reached such a nervous state owing to the prolonged high tension that only a spark was needed to cause an explosion. On board the warships involved it is said a large number of pamphlets were found dealing with the cause of the war and asking why Germany became the best hated nation in the world. Others dilated on the vile influence of junkerdom and the big manufacturing interests and purported to give the truth about "the men behind the war."

Fairly reliable accounts put the number of men condemned to penal servitude at 30, whose sentences ranged from five to fifteen years, while 80 to 100 were given lighter sentences.

The Dutch foreign office yesterday issued a communication announcing that according to a dispatch received from the Netherlands Minister at Washington, the American government had decided to refuse coal bunkering facilties to vessels bound for countries bordering on Germany. The communication adds that unless the Washington government especially sanctions shipments to Holland sea traffic between Holland and her colonies will become impossible, inasmuch as bunker coal also is unobtainable from South Africa.
